Mary Miller

Triple M Bar Ranch

Mary is a native of Minnesota. In 1984, she graduated from Concordia College in Moorhead, Minnesota, and moved to Washington D.C. She worked for a Minnesota Senator and the Committee on Environment and Public Works. After these positions, she returned to Minnesota to work for the state's conservation districts.

Mary worked for the USDA Soil Conservation Service/Natural Resources Conservation Service for almost 22 years, mainly in Colorado. She also went on details to Nebraska, Georgia, Texas, Iowa, Washington D.C., California, and the Pacific Basin. Her last position was as the area public affairs specialist in the La Junta area office.

Currently Mary runs Triple M Bar Ranch's lamb meat business, works on the ranch, and does some marketing and public relations consulting.

Mary and her husband, David, live on the ranch, which is north of Manzanola.
